New RAFA Web Site

Thanks to the work and expertise of Mark Allemang, RAFA has a new, spiffy web site! This is the place to go for the most current information about RAFA events, including links to the sites of other flute organizations and guest artists, maps to RAFA events, and information about the contest and other events.

www.RaleighFlutes.org is our new address. Check it out and be sure to send your suggestions and ideas to Mark at web@RaleighFlutes.org. Mark is eager to make the site a useful resource for RAFA.

Announcements

RAFA's membership "grew" the past several months with the additions of several precious newborns. Congratulations to the new moms and dads!

Carol Horton, former director of Silver Winds, gave birth to Laura Leigh on April 9. Merritt Flexman, member of Raleigh Flute Choir, welcomed a little daughter, Sarah Alyse, born May 23. And another little girl, Emma Mary, was born June 6 to Silver Fantasy member Leslee Lancaster. Among all these girls, there was one boy! Amy Witynski, member of Silver Winds, welcomed a little boy, Addison Francis, on June 23. Best wishes to all of you. We can't wait to meet these "young musicians" at one of our RAFA events!

Congratulations to Raleigh Flute Choir member and arranger Ann Pearce, who had four new flute choir works published by ALRY Publications this summer: Away in a Manger, Silent Night, We Wish You a Merry Christmas, and I Wonder as I Wander (which was performed at the Atlanta NFA Convention in August). RAFA is so fortunate to have a very talented resident arranger! Way to go, Ann!

We are extremely proud of RAFA member Joanna Sisk, who was awarded Third Prize in the NFA Young Artist Competition held in Atlanta August 19-22. This is quite an accomplishment, since many of the nation's top young flutists enter this annual competition. The taped auditions narrow the field to six semi-finalists, who perform at the NFA Convention on the opening day. From the six, three flutists are then selected to progress to the final round of competition, held the last day of the convention. Many RAFA members were present to cheer Joanna on in these final rounds of competition. We are so proud of you, Joanna, and are eager to hear you play for us again soon!

Joanna Sisk

Wedding bells (and flutes, too, I'm sure) rang for Terry Patrickis and Kevin Isao Endo on Sunday, August 22. Terry and Kevin will be residing in Chapel Hill, where Terry has her Suzuki flute studio. Congratulations to the newlyweds!

Flute Choirs

RAFA's flute choirs will begin rehearsing on Sunday, September 19, 2:00 – 4:00 p.m. at the Unitarian Universalist Fellowship of Raleigh, located just inside the I-440 beltline along Wade Ave. (3313 Wade Ave.). New members are welcome to join the intermediate choir (Silver Winds) or audition for the advanced choir (Silver Fantasy). To schedule an audition, contact Rosene Rohrer at 781-3225 or send e-mail to choirs@RaleighFlutes.org. Rehearsals are held the 1st, 3rd, and 5th Sundays of each month, with performances in December and May. Flute choir fee is $30 per semester (in addition to RAFA membership dues).

NFA Convention

About twenty RAFA members were among the several thousand flutists who converged in Atlanta, GA, August 19-22 to attend the National Flute Association (NFA) Annual Convention. As in previous years, many RAFA members played key roles in the myriad events offered each day. Joanna Sisk competed in the Young Artist Competition, winning Third Prize (see page 3). Performing in the 160-member World Flute Orchestra were Beth Kupsco, Tom Mease, Ann Pearce, Rosene Rohrer, and Dan Trumpler. Ann Pearce also served as a panelist in a discussion of money management for flute clubs and conducted one of her flute choir arrangements in a reading session. Rosene Rohrer organized and facilitated two workshops about flute club issues and conducted a children's flute choir. Helen Spielman creatively and skillfully organized six Kids' Conservatory sessions, geared for children, but enjoyed by many adults, too! Helen also shared a workshop with Alexa Still titled Music for the Joy of It. Linda Cykert showcased the new Armstrong Classic flutes in an Exhibitor's Showcase for United Musical Instruments. Anna Ayres Smith shared her expertise in a workshop highlighting publicity tips for flute groups. Brooks de Wetter-Smith performed in an evening concert, joining NEXUS percussionists Bill Cahn and John Wyre in Lou Harrison's Concerto No. 1 for Flute and Percussion. Other RAFA members attending the convention were Mary Boone, Erin Boone, Rebecca Dunnell, Rachael Miller, Pam Nelson, Mary-Jean O'Doherty, Nancy Schneeloch (and her 14 students from ASU), Ryan Ward, and Jennifer Wesner. My apologies if I missed your name – these are the folks I spotted in the huge crowd!

*Rosene Rohrer, Tom Mease, Pam Nelson,
Helen Spielman, and Ann Pearce*

In addition to the many workshops, recitals, competitions, masterclasses, flute choir reading sessions and concerts, and bustling exhibits, other convention highlights were: Carl Hall's exquisite performance of Martin Amlin's Concerto for Piccolo and Orchestra; a moving tribute to French flutist and teacher Alain Marion; an international concert featuring flutists from India, Slovakia, Iceland, Ireland, New Zealand, and Peru; the energetic and passionate performance by the Venezuelan Flute Orchestra, and the incredible blend of classical virtuosity with jazz improvisation by Free Flight with flutist Jim Walker.

Rosene Rohrer, Anna Ayres Smith, and Ann Pearce at the NFA Convention

RAFA members also enjoyed the opportunity to touch base with flute friends, students, and teachers from the past. It was a special treat for three founding board members of RAFA to meet again and share stories (see photo). Anna Ayres Smith, RAFA's first president back in 1985, now lives near Atlanta and serves the newly-formed Atlanta Flute Club as its first president. With Anna's energy, organizational skills, and passionate commitment to the world of flute, we know the Atlanta Flute Club is in good hands! Good luck, Anna, and thanks for hosting a wonderful NFA Convention!

Mark your calendars for next year's NFA Convention to be held August 17-20 in Columbus, Ohio. Check the NFA web site at www.nfaonline.org for more information.
