The Cumberland Quintet – Concert and Workshop

RAFA's March 2nd event will feature a concert, free to RAFA members, by the Cumberland Wind Quintet (see box to the right). After the concert the members of the quintet will divide and coach our participating ensembles in 45 minute sessions. RAFA members are invited to form small ensembles and sign up for a session. Fee is $25.00 per ensemble. This is a wonderful opportunity to learn ensemble skills. If you already have an established ensemble, this is a great chance to get coaching on a piece you may be preparing for performance. There are three available sessions for anyone wanting to participate. To register your group (duet, trio, quartet, etc.), please contact Kim Allemang by February 7th at 919.873.0603 or at KimAllemang@nc.rr.com.

"...the Cumberland Quintet is up to every challenge, legitimate or otherwise. Of these six very different scores, playing them as if they were instant masterpieces, which makes for a very persuasive experience"

Fanfare Magazine

"I believe the Cumberland Quintet to be a first rate ensemble. Their excellence is a model for any serious young musician as well as the general public to enjoy."

Myron Bloom - Indiana University

"Your performance at Science Hill High School was a great opportunity for our kids to hear professionals perform in a setting that is exciting and informal. The chance to hear this caliber of playing is a treat few high school players get. We really appreciate the efforts of the quintet to get out and be an example of musicianship to our students."

Tom Stites - Science Hill High School

*Roger Martin – flute
William Woodworth – oboe
Anne Thurmond – clarinet
James Lotz – bassoon
Greg Danner – horn*

Established in 1972, the Cumberland Quintet has built a solid reputation for unique programming and fine musicianship. The group has toured extensively throughout the United States and in Europe, performing to a wide variety of audiences. Commanding a large repertoire of music from all periods, they offer the standard woodwind classics as well as exciting modern works and lighter popular music. Special concerts and workshops serve to introduce the instruments and to provide advice to young musicians.

The Cumberland Quintet has performed on live radio and television broadcasts, and has been part of an educational public television series. They have also performed as guest artists at music conventions for the College Music Society, the Tennessee Music Educators Association, the National Flute Association, and the Midwest International Band and Orchestra Clinic. The most recent of the three CD's performed by the quintet is Shadows and Dreams, released by Centaur Records. The Cumberland Quintet is in residence at Tennessee Technological University. They also serve on the faculty for the Southeast Chamber Music Institute, a week long workshop for high school students.
